CURIOSITIES OF AMERICAN LITER. ATURE. Compiled, Edited and Arranged by Rev. RUFUS W. GRISWOLD.

The design of this work is to stimulate the literary curiosity of those who, with a taste for its tranquil jursuits, are im-reded in their acquirements. The characters, the events, and the singularities of modern literature, are not always familiar even to those who excel in classical studies. But a more nort of mankind, by their occupations, or their i lence, both unfavorable causes to literary improvents, require to obtain the materials for thinking, by the easiest and readist means."-[Extract from the Author's Preface to the First

These Researches offer authentic knowledge for evanescent topics; they attempt to demonstrate some general princi-ple, by induction from a variety of principles—to developthose imperfect truths which float obscurely in the mind—and to suggest subjects, which, by their singularity, are new to laquiry, and which may lead to new trains of ideas. In accustomers, toming ourselves to discoveries of this nature, every research seems to yield the agreeable feeling of invention—it is a pleas-ure peculiar to itself—something which we ourselves have found out—and which, whenever it imports novelty or interest to another, communicates to him the delight of the first discoverer."—Extract from the Preface to the Second Series. It is the fashion of the present ay to raise up dazzling theories of genius; to reason a priori; naise apdazzing theories of genius; to reason a property in migate abstract paradoxes; to treat with levely the genius, because he is only a man of genius. Haddonfield, N. J. April 20, 1843.

On or about the 13th day of October, 1841, I was taken with a violent pain in the side near the liver, which continued about five days, and was followed by the breaking of an ulcer or abscess inwardly, which relieved the pain a little, but caused me to throw up a great quantity of offensive matter, and also much blood. Being greatly alarmed at this, I applied to a physician, but he said he could do but little for me except to give me some MERCURY Phls, which I refused to take. Many other remails were then upon red by myxife and friends, but none remedies were then procured by mywife and friends, but none fid me any good. The discharge of blood and corruption still continued, every few days, till at last it became so offensive continued, every few days, till at last it became so offensive that I could scarcely breathe. I was also seized with a violent cough which at times caused me to raise much more blood than before. My disease still grew worse till February, when all hopes of recovery were given up, and my friends all thought I must die of a galloping Consumption.

At this time, when apparently my life was drawing near its close, I heard of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and got a bottle, which relieved me immediately, and by the use of only three bottles of this medicine all my pains were removed; my cough and spitting of blood and corruption entirely stopped, and in a few weeks my health was so far restored as to enable my cough and spitting of blood and correspondent rely stopped, and in a few weeks my health was so far restored as to enable me to work at my trade, (that of a carpenter,) and up to this time I have enjewed good health.
